A HOLE IN THE GROUND

Large Enough to Hold a Block, Caused by a Heavy Explosion.

A Tremendous Shock Which Racked Buildings and Did Much Damage.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 14. A Findlay, Ohio, special says that at 2.30 this morning everybody in that city was awakened by a tremendous shock that racked every building, breaking windows in many places. It was found to be an explosion of cartridges and the company's nitro-glycerine works situated four miles out of the city. A correspondent just from the scene reports a hole in the ground large enough to take in a four-story block, while the factory was reduced to kindling wood and is scattered for a mile in every direction. No one was in or about the works, hence no loss of life occurred.

A SECOND ALASKA EXCURSION.

Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, in view of the very marked success of their first announcement of an excursion over the Canadian Pacific Railway, and to Alaska, have arranged for a second tour a fortnight later. The first party was very quickly filled, and this excursion is intended to accommodate the late applicants who were necessarily left upon a "waiting list." Leaving Boston August 2, the second party will follow the itinerary of the other completely, visiting Alaska on the same steamer and, under the same favorable auspices in every way, and also making the same tour through the Yellowstone National Park. The time covered by the trip is extremely favorable, and no better dates could be selected for any portion of the tour. The Alaska round will come wholly in the month of August. In addition to the Alaska excursions, there are to be five trips to the Yellowstone National Park direct, and thirty to popular Eastern resorts. Descriptive circulars of the various tours may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street.

Now is the time to take Bell's Sarsaparilla. It will tone you up, give you strength, give you a clear head and good digestion without which you cannot enjoy life. Cleanse your system thoroughly in spring months and you are safe from fevers in summer months. Take it now 50 cts. per bottle everywhere.

THE SPRING MEDICINE.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood-purifying and appetite-restoring, which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

In advanced age the declining powers are wonderfully refreshed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It really does "make the weak strong." 19

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. A trustworthy medical writer says: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success; but most of the remedies in general use by physicians afford but temporary benefit. A cure cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. codfwlw

ASK YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT IT.

BREWER LOCALS.

The schooner Bill Stowe is loading ice at F. W. Ayer & Co's houses.

The schooner James A. Garfield is receiving a cargo of ice from the T. F. Woodbury ice Co.

Miss Allie Baker, who has been visiting for a week at Camden, returned home on the Lewiston Saturday.

Miss Samuel F. Campbell of Cherryfield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Gardiner, at her home on Chamberlain street.

The schooner Isaiah K. Seeton will commence loading to-day at the Eastern Manufacturing Company's wharf with ice for New York.

On account of the scarcity of logs the mills at South Brewer have been obliged to shut down for a few days, but will start as soon as the logs come down river.

Mr. James E. Warren has returned to his home in Waltham, Mass., after a short visit in Brewer. Mrs. Warren did not return with him but will remain for some time longer.

On account of the disagreeable weather of Saturday the intended picnic by the Grammar School to Woodlands did not occur, but if the day is favorable, it will take place to-day.

Mr. A. H. Gould, who has taken the contract to furnish the pressed ornamental brick to be used in the new Y. M. C. A. building, has already commenced work on them as it takes considerable time to manufacture them and he has a large number to get out.

The schooner Webster Barnard has discharged the cargo which she brought to Bangor merchants and will commence today loading ice from the Norombega Ice Company's stacks, which are located above the dam. The ice will be transported to the schooner by team.

There has been a good deal of discussion in regard to the true lines of Brewer street, but it has now been settled, as Mr. F. W. Baldwin yesterday surveyed the street and found the real boundaries, as those of some house lots which have also been somewhat disputed property.

A scow loaded with laths for the schooner Herald, which is receiving its cargo while anchored in the middle of the river, and a line to one of the piers of the toll bridge capsized Saturday and the load of laths dumped unceremoniously into the river, where they floated down with the current very rapidly.

The exercises of the graduating class of the High School will occur one week from next Friday evening in the City Hall. With the parts taken by the bright young people who compose the class and the music furnished by Andrews' Orchestra, it will be an hour to the city and a pleasure to all who may attend.

The farmers in the suburbs and surrounding country, as well as the citizens who have vegetable gardens, feel quite blue over the extended rainy season which we have enjoyed (?). The farmers report that they will be unable to raise any oats, with some very rare exceptions, and the ground continues so wet that they hardly dare to plant anything when they see such a rare sight as the sun shining all day.

Negotiations are going on for the sale of a half interest in the little steamer Lizzie C. Snow, which is owned in this city and run on the Kennebec river, to parties on the Kennebec. If the sale is made the new and old owners will probably form a corporation to carry on the business of the boat and as fast as other boats are needed on the line, to add them. Mr. H. J. Leach expects to go to Augusta Wednesday on business connected with the sale of the steamer.

It would seem as if something should be done in regard to the Peeping Tom who still continues to roam the streets of Brewer and stick his inquisitive nose and eyes against other people's windows. Some young men who were walking on the street the other night, saw him in the act of peeping in at a window and tried to capture him, but after a lively chase lost sight of him among some board piles. He should be caught and made an example of and it is hoped this may be done soon.

Mr. Howard, who lives on the river road almost out to Eddington Bend, drove into the city Saturday in search of an owner to a canoe which, strange to say, had been just on dry land. It seems that about eleven o'clock the night previous, some one had driven past his house and Saturday morning he discovered, standing in the road, a pair of wheels on which rested the chassis, the tops either having untied or been broken from the leading conveyance. It was the property of the Peavey Brothers, of Bangor, who let it to three young men, whose fishing must have come to an abrupt end when they discovered the loss of the canoe.

A RUNAWAY. Dr. D. A. Robinson was called from Bangor to a house near the railroad station and fastened his horse to a post in front of the house, Friday evening. A short time afterward, the train from Mt. Desert Ferry steamed past and so frightened the animal that he broke away and ran rapidly down Parker street and on to the toll-bridge, where he did an unusual thing for a runaway to do, took the right side of the bridge and ran toward the Bangor side as fast as possible. Fortunately there was but one carriage in his path and the driver of that, seeing his danger, put the whip to his own horse and managed to keep ahead until he had passed the gate which was dropped before the runaway reached it. The horse was stopped and escaped with Dr. Robinson without a scratch to himself or the carriage from his wild flight.

SATURDAY'S BALL GAME. The ball game Saturday in Rollins' Park was fully as exciting as expected, and the opinion expressed was that if people interested in base ball had believed that the game would be as well played as it was that there would have been a much larger crowd in attendance. The game dragged at first and was fielded and will go up to the last half of the ninth inning, when it dropped as if it had taken its cue from Mrs. A. W. Smith, of New York, is visiting friends in Brewer.

The Italian pipers who have been making existence in their vicinity miserable for Brewer people, will never get rich for making such annoying sounds, but like Johnnie Horgan may "often get a penny to go into some other street," and in time they may secure a good many in this way if they stop long enough.

All Sorts and Sizes.

The New York Flower Mission last season distributed over 250,000 bouquets among the sick.

A circus manager at Lyons kept his exhibition open all day, free of charge, on the occasion of his daughter's marriage.

At Montezuma, Ga., a swarm of bees took possession of the soda fountain in a drug store on Sunday, and put an end to business for the rest of the day.

Reports from all parts of Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest are to the effect that the crops are in excellent condition and that fine weather prevails.

Heidelberg castle is being thoroughly restored. The famous old building has been somewhat dilapidated for a long time past, and so much reparation is needed that the works will occupy several years and will cost $25,000.

Miss Bessie G. Robertson, Aurora, Ill., is the champion census enumerator. Her average has been 262 names per day. This means that she has earned between $7 and $8 a day.

"Here, waiter, save us a quarter for you. And just tell me now what you can conscientiously recommend to me." Waiter—"Thanks. If you want anything good sir, go to some other restaurant!"

Among birds the green finch is the first to rise in the morning, its notes being heard as early as 1.30 on a summer morning. The black-cap turns up at 2.30, the quail at 3, the blackbird at 4, the robin at 4.30, and the thrush at 4.50.

The marriage of Mr. Stanley and Miss Dorothy Tennant is fixed definitely for the 12th of July. Wedding presents flow in from all parts of England, often from people of whom neither Miss Tennant nor Mr. Stanley has ever heard.

Wethersfield, Conn., has a genuine palm tree in bloom. Its owner has had it for twenty-three years, and this is the first time it has blossomed. The flower appears at the top of the tree, resembling an exquisite selection of ferns and is buff in color.

M. Peshkoff, the Cossack officer who left Vladivostock in November last on horseback to ride across Siberia to St. Petersburg, a distance of nearly five thousand miles, reached the Russian capital on May 31. He received tremendous ovations throughout the city.

Philip Benson, a planter living near Corinth, Miss., is believed to enjoy the proud distinction of having the longest beard in the world. He is 6 feet 3 inches in height, and yet when he stands erect his whiskers reach to the ground. When the wind blows through them it must create considerable of a commotion.

Among the passengers who arrived in New York, Tuesday, on the steamship Warra from Bremen and Southampton, was Baron Von Zedwitz, German minister to Mexico, who is soon to marry Miss Mary Elizabeth Breckenridge Caldwell, the younger sister of Mary Gwendoline Caldwell. The baron is a fine looking young fellow, it is said, and a member of one of the oldest German families. He was met at Cherbourg by the relatives of his fiancee and by several prominent German-Americans.

Mrs. Thomas G. Platt, who is an expert amateur photographer, accompanied by the chief of the federal inspectors, recently visited the steamer Burgundia and the barge office in New York for the purpose of taking views with the camera. At first the Italians on the steamer would not pose but subsequently, when they understood that their pictures were to be taken, they hastened to fall into picturesque groups. At the barge office Mrs. Platt obtained some excellent pictures of the Assyrians. She got fifty or sixty pictures in all, to add to a collection of about 2,000 views on different subjects.

A man at Preston, Ga., placed a bag net in a creek in the vicinity, and was astonished by its weight when he tried to drag it out the next morning. After great effort he succeeded in drawing the net, when he was still more surprised. Within lay two dead mammals—an alligator and a turtle. The alligator was nine feet in length, while the turtle was of the loggerhead variety, and a subsequent weighing showed it to be eighty-five pounds in weight. The back of the alligator was broken in two places, while one of the feet was almost severed from the body. The shell of the turtle was crushed in.

It looks very much as though New York were going to lose the immense legacy left us by Mr. Tilden. His nephew, the contestant, has won another victory in Judge Beach's decision, that the trust clause under which Mr. Tilden's residuary estate was bequeathed to New York is illegal. The case now goes to the Court of Appeals, with the probabilities against the city. This case is but another warning to men philanthropically inclined, to do what good they may, like the late Mr. Peter Cooper, during their lifetime. If a shrewd lawyer and able man like Samuel J. Tilden had not skill enough to write a will that should realize his intentions, other men should take warning by his example.

An interesting sale of autographs has just taken place in Paris. Eighty-four letters relating to events which interested the court and Parisian society in the time of Madame du Barry were sold for $8 apiece. A letter of Frederick the Great, when crown prince, to Voltaire, fetched $110. A letter from Jeanne d'Albret to Catherine de Medici was sold at $65. Another is the familiar style from Madame de Pompadour to the Duc de Rivrsale when he was ambassador of France at Berlin went for $40. A letter of Voltaire's sold for $115. "The religion," says Voltaire, "should be universal. The human conscience and morality are the same everywhere. Marcus Aurelius, Plato, Socrates, Descartes, Newton and Locke all belong to the same church, and every persecutor is an enemy of God and man."

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELIZA A. GOWY, 67 Terrace Street, Boston.

The Boston Traveller says: "There is nothing the matter with the Maine Republicans. They have renominated their present able Congressional delegation, and an exceptionally large and enthusiastic convention renominated Governor Burleigh by acclamation. * * * We shall look to Maine to give an old-fashioned Republican majority in September. Maine Republicans are all right."

Without regard to platforms, there is no doubt that the next Legislature will give the State the Australian ballot system.—Lewiston Journal.

We think there is considerable doubt on this point. The same positive assertion was made that a secret ballot plank would appear in the platform, but the Republican convention decided otherwise. He good and sufficient reason is given why such a change should be made, and we believe the next Legislature, like the last, will decide in favor of the present system, which is satisfactory to the people.

We have examined the columns of the Portland Argus with much care but fail to find any further reference to the Alabama election case. The next time the Argus feels inclined to indulge in a demonstration article it will doubtless make sure of its facts in advance. The figures given by THE WHIG, as well as the fact that a Democratic House had to reverse the action of the Bourbon manipulators in this same district, proved rather too much for our Portland contemporary, which finds safety only in silence.

Congressman Mills is reported to be very much disgruntled because Speaker Reed did not appoint him on the Committee on Rules, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Randall. He was desirous of that place, but Mr. Blount of Georgia, was appointed, and so Mr. Mills attempts to square accounts with Speaker Reed by refusing to fill the vacancy on a committee occasioned by the promotion of Mr. Carlisle to the Senate. Speaker Reed and the country can stand his displeasure all wrath, and no one will be the worse for it but Mr. Mills.

The Boston Globe thinks if the Maine Democrats make an issue of the secret ballot and the McKinley bill they will have all the ammunition they can use. If the McKinley bill becomes a law as it passed the House it will be the most favorable legislation on the tariff that Maine has ever had, hence we do not believe our Democratic friends will make much out of that issue. As to the ballot the people of Maine are satisfied with the system now in operation as it enables them to secret their political preferences in an honest and simple manner. The Democrats are welcome to all the capital they can make out of that issue.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, commenting on the remarkable threat of the Democracy, says: It is a remarkable fact that the only opprobrium of failure on the part of this Congress to pass a National Election law in advance of the Congressional election in November, nearly five months ahead, is heard upon the floors of the Democratic of the Senate to differentiate. The plan of occupying nearly half a year, if necessary, in making speeches to kill time is positively grotesque. The plain and brave of Speaker Reed and the Republicans of the House threatened that matter in the only branch of Congress where it has influence had its bring, and this ought to be an example for the Senate. Is that such a deadlock body that it cannot shake itself free and go on with its business? There could be no excuse made for such imbecility as that, and we cannot believe the majority will submit to anything so intolerable.

The large and enthusiastic Republican convention last week has had a very discouraging effect upon the Democratic brethren. They had hoped in view of the fact that a unanimous renomination was to be given Gov. Burleigh in accordance with party usage, that the attendance might be small enough to enable them to claim a lack of interest on the part of the Republicans in the coming campaign. Great was their disappointment, therefore, when they learned that instead of a small convention it was a remarkably large one. The Republicans not only paid Gov. Burleigh the handsome compliment of indorsing his administration by a very full convention, but also took occasion to announce to the country that Maine Republicans are of the enthusiastic order this year. Very much depends upon the start and in this respect the Republicans made no mistake. They have given an impetus to the campaign that will make itself felt in the most remote portions of the State.

Death of Frances W. Hill.

The sudden death of Hon. F. W. Hill will be a severe shock to a large number of people in Maine. It was only a few days ago that Mr. Hill, then in the full strength of vigorous manhood, although well advanced in years, received the unanimous nomination as the Democratic candidate for Governor and at that time while rather disinclined to assume the cares of a political campaign, owing to his extensive private business, appeared as active and congenial as the youngest man present. A severe cold led to a bronchial trouble and this was followed by heart failure, resulting in his death Sunday after a very brief illness. Mr Hill was one of the leading business men of Eastern Maine and his railroad connections gave him a very extensive acquaintance in this State and in fact throughout New England. For years he has been a director of the Maine Central Railroad, of which corporation he was one of the largest individual stockholders, and has ever been an active worker in the development of the road. His death will be a sad blow to his family as well as to many friends, all of whom will [illegible]

Rebel Rash.

The following extract from the Nashville American evinces the same spirit in the South that takes delight in desecrating rebel flags in public and in erecting monuments in honor of the attempt of rebels to destroy the Government:

"Decoration Day and the Fourth of July are useful in these latter days of piping peace principally for the opportunities they afford cheap Northern blatherskites to throw mud at the South and cast their venom at our dead heroes. Bostolle and Hopkins are first-class representatives of the cheap Northern blatherskite and Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson are two of the dead heroes referred to."

TO RECOGNIZE BRAZIL

Was About Ready to Make the Movement.

LONDON, June 14. According to several newspapers, M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, is about to declare recognition by France of the Brazilian provisional government and has intimated to Dom Pedro the Brazilian representative, that President Cernot is ready to receive him. The same journals also say the Brazilian government agreed to submit to arbitration the question of frontier between French Guiana and Brazil, to reduce the import duty on rubber and contract for a supply from the application of France that every one who was in Brazilian territory on the day the Republic was proclaimed should be regarded as a citizen of Brazil.

YALE COLLEGE.

The Senate Considers Bills on the Calendar.

Eulogies on the Late Congressman Randall.

Senate

WASHINGTON, June 14. After some unimportant morning business the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The following bill, among others, was passed: The Senate bill to provide for the examination of certain officers of the army and to regulate promotions therein. It provides that promotion to every grade below that of Brigadier General throughout each arm, corps or department, shall be made according to seniority to the next lower grade of that arm, corps or department. It also provides a system of examination of all officers of the army below the rank of Major.

The regular progress in the calendar was interrupted, and at the request of Mr. Morrill the Senate bill was taken up to establish an educational fund and apply the proceeds of the public lands and the receipts from certain and granted railroad companies to the more complete endowment and support of colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education. Mr. Morrill addressed the Senate in its advocacy, and at the close of his remarks there was some nursery discussion and some amendments were offered and agreed to, but the bill was laid aside without final action, and its further consideration was fixed for Thursday next.

Several bills for public buildings and bridges in the West were passed, as well as thirty-five private pension bills.

Adjourned.

House.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Mr. E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, Mr. Stewart, of Vermont, and Mr. Blanchard, of Missouri, as conferees on the aura-trust bill. Mr. Bland asked to be excused from serving on the conference committee and Mr. Culberson, of Texas, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Barrows, of Michigan, in the chair, on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

After considering several unimportant amendments and pending final action on the bill the committee rose and the House listened to eulogies on the late ex-Speaker Randall.

Messrs. Butterworth, Venr, Caswell, Blount, Dunnell, Mills, Osborne, McCreary, Dalzell and others eulogized Mr. Randall as a man of courageous substance to conviction, of stainless character and rich in honor in public respect.

The House then adjourned as a mark of respect to his memory.

LOCKOUT IN NEW YORK.

Six Thousand Cutters Out on Account of a Difference.

NEW YORK, June 14. At noon to-day about 6000 cutters, cloak and suit makers were locked out by different cloak and suit firms throughout the city. The greater portion locked out are union men, while several hundred are non-union men. The trouble arose over the refusal of union cutters to turn work over to non-union workmen. The employers to avoid trouble decided to lockout every man until the matter is amicably settled. A secret meeting of the Executive Board of United Cloak and Suit Cutters was held this afternoon, when the matter was discussed.

Fourteen firms are interested in the lockout, the principal ones being Jonasson, Meyers & Co., 388 Broadway, who closed their doors on about 1,200 men; Goldman Bros., 101 Greene street, 200 men; Friedlander & Co., 377 Broadway, 300 men; Hirshenfield Bros., 508 Canal street, 600 men, and Benjamin & Co., 555 Broome street, 700 men. It is expected that a settlement will be reached and all hands go to work Monday.

NOT AS BAD AS PAINTED.

Cheyennes Indians Frightened by the Troops.

HELENA, Mont., June 14. Governor Toole is in daily communication with the staff officers sent to investigate the alleged hostile acts or threats of the Cheyenne Indians. Up to to-day no advices have come to the Governor from his representatives leading him to apprehend any serious trouble. If the distant settlers have been worked into a scare, the Cheyennes have by the movement of troops, had a worse fright. No Indians have taken the war-path and no lives sacrificed. Cattle have been killed and that is all.

CONGRESSMAN RENOMINATED

CHICAGO, June 14. Congressman George E. Adams was nominated by the Fourth Congressional District Convention this afternoon, receiving 36 votes to Willets 66.

BODIES RECOVERED

BOSTON, June 14. The bodies of Edgar Maloney, Albert Lombard and Lawrence M Thomas, three of the seven drowned in Cow Pasture Bay last Sunday, were recovered to-day. All were badly decomposed. Two bodies have not yet been found.

MANY ANNIVERSARY MARRIAGE.

It will be a Quiet Wedding on Tuesday

LONDON, June 14. Every possible effort is being made by the Anderson Navarro family to keep the time and place of the magnificent wedding from the vulgar. It was given out a few weeks ago that the ceremony would be performed Brompton oratory in July with much grandeur with a view to thwarting curiosity hunters, who are the bane of such occasions, off the scent. Miss Anderson will, however, be married very quietly next Tuesday morning at the Catholic chapel in Hampstead, and but few of her most intimate friends will be invited to the ceremony. The only bridesmaids will be her two half sisters, Blanche and Juliet.

FIREMEN INJURED

At a Blaze in a Shoe Factory.

BROCKTON, Mass., June 15. At 11.30 to-night fire, supposed to be incendiary, broke out in the four story factory owned and occupied by James S. Allen, at East Bridgewater, a shoe manufacturer, destroying the entire structure and doing considerable damage to adjoining dwellings and stables. Night Watchman Horace Newhall, in trying to escape from the flames, was badly burned. George Pye, a ladder man, broke his right leg by a fall from the fourth story of the building. Another fireman fell the same distance and sustained slight injuries. The night watchman is ignorant of how the fire started. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

SENTENTIAL EXECUTION.

Another Attempt to be Made to Prevent It.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 14. The next legal step that will be taken by the Westinghouse Electric Company to prevent the use of their vibrator current dynamos for the execution of murderers in this State will be in the form of a writ of replevin to repossession of the three dynamos of their patent now in the State Prisons at Auburn, Dannemora and Sing Sing, which Harold P. Brown, the electrical expert, purchased for the State. The Westinghouse Company claim to retain proprietary interest in the dynamos they sell (or claim merely to lease) to customers, after the manner of the Bell Telephone Company in leasing its telephones, and will seek by action to restrain the state from employing them for executory purposes, by claiming that Brown illegally and fraudulently obtained possession of them by collusion with the consumers having claimed. This will prove a novel and interesting question.

AMERICA TO THE FRONT.

PARIS, June 14. Henry Gardiner, of Hartford, Conn., has been awarded the highest prize for fancy drawing at the Salon this Beaux Arts. This is the highest time in the history of the Salon. Gardiner has had his picture hung three years in succession.

SILVER COLLARS COMMEMORATE.

Great Destruction Wrought by Tremendous Storms.

Streets Overflowed and the Houses Flooded to the First Stories.

ROCKFORD, Ills., June 14. At least half a million dollars worth of property was destroyed in this city and vicinity last night. For three hours the rain fell in torrents, the lightning played, and following each flash came peals of thunder. The storm commenced at 8 o'clock and in a very short time every street was a turbulent river. Creeks were swollen, and in a moment devoting Leeds were swept out through Kent and Keith creek valleys. Each creek drains an immense area of territory, and from each side came contributions to the waters until the creeks had become destructive torrents. The water spread over the Swedish, Silling colliers and creeping up into the first floors of residences. On Cedar street the scene was awful. Men, women and children were out in the rain, many weeping and and all excited. It was a miniature Johnstown flood and somewhat resembling many respects. Before people were aware of it the water came rushing down the creek and came creeping into their homes, driving families out into the darkness. All the lower part of the city was flooded and hundreds of people were rendered homeless. This morning there was presented a scene of desolation and ruin. The wreck of the Illinois road presents the worst appearance. For nearly half a mile the track was lifted bodily and carried 30 to 50 feet to the east. The rails under the cars were twisted and bent. The engine of water coming with such terrible force bent the rails like sprawn. The railway companies suffer heavily and every bridge over the East and Kilsh creeks was swept away.

IN FAVOR OF FREE WOOL.

A Memorial Sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

BOSTON, June 15. A memorial in favor of free wool has been sent to the Senate Finance Committee, by the Wool Consumers' Association. It says:

The system of excluding wool by prohibitory duties, involving cost of higher duties on woolens and worsteds, has been tried at a great cost to the consumer, with destructive restriction to the wool manufacturer, and without compensating advantages to the wool grower. Under this system the wool grower utterly failed to supply raw wool in adequate quantities.

The high cost of foreign wool forced the manufacturers to resort to shoddy, hair and cotton to make so called woolens and the importation of goods made by foreign manufacturers has been enormous. The exclusion of foreign wool so interferes with the necessary supply of raw material as to reduce the quantity of American wool used. The third class, or carpet wools, are almost entirely coarse wools at a very low foreign cost, and cannot be raised here at all. The duty on this class of wool hampers trade and increases needlessly the cost of carpets to consumers by several millions of dollars.

Heavy specific duties on first and second class wools discriminate against the American manufacturer. We demand that if the wools now required for wanted fabrics could be obtained by our manufacturers free of duty, it would displace the imported woolens and afford more employment for our own labor. The claim is also made that the raising of mutton would be stimulated through the free importation of raw materials.

The fire started in the floor and it was fortunate that it was discovered when it was or a serious fire might have resulted. The floor was somewhat damaged and one bunch of shingles was burned. Its property consists of over five thousand acres of land situated upon Grindstone Neck and the Schoodic Peninsula, in the town of Goldsboro at Winter Harbor, and the members are making active efforts in its behalf. OFF FOR THE SEA SHORE. Quite a large number of passengers from this city left Saturday morning on the steamer Cimbria, bound for the different down river summer resorts. The major by were on their way to Hughes' Point, Spot Point and Islesboro. They went there for the purpose of opening their cottages for the summer. Already many owners of cottages at the various resorts have gone to the sea shore to enjoy the early summer weather and the quietude which precedes the festivities of the height of the season. June is generally a very favorable month for being at the sea shore but this year has been an exception, and the month thus far has been marked by cold, rainy weather, which is discouraging to all attempts at breathing the salt breezes. Those who contemplate summer visits are hoping that the remainder of the summer may make up the pleasant weather which has previously been lacking.

Back of the foundry building will be a large shed for the storage of coal and iron. The outlook is most promising for this industry as it is now rising from the ashes.

Some of the urchins who are making the complaints against the English sparrow as a excuse for trying to kill all the birds they see may get themselves into trouble. There is a law for killing pond squawks, robins, swallows or any of our native birds except crows and hawks, and those boys had better make sure they know the difference between a native sparrow and an imported one before trying to kill or take them. The Portland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has offered a reward for the apprehension of offenders against the bird law.

The Augusta and Gardiner church pulpit has had trouble with the New England Telephone Company in regard to right of way. Lawyers were employed by both sides and it is said that the Electric Road Company had, by mistake, the question let the lawyer and board of trustees of the city, to right to remove or have removed, any poles on Bowdoin street to be in the way. Mr. Mandell, however, would not consent to take his poles down and Mr. Day, the superintendent of the road, says that he shall have them removed at once.

A Paris correspondent says that "young and pretty women wear no veils whatever with their hat tilters."

Chamois and moleskins of large full-blown roses and other French flowers are still the rage in millinery; but as they seem likely to become vulgarized, the preference is given to dahlias, camelias and several made of exquisitely fine velvet flowers, mosses, and foliage that are too expensive to ever become common.

Some of the new shop fronts are made with finely pointed and shirt-mitre of ruffled cloth, to match or in one of the shades of rose-tinted linen material. A loose silk belt is worn by little, reaching nearly to the arm-pits, matches the shirt fabric. This belt buttons behind, but the folds are run through an immensely long buckle of gold or silver, which crosses the waist diagonally in front. The shirt has deep flat and kilts, and is felt and straight at back. Opals and mood beetle, violet and silver gray and mauve, and terra-cotta and dove gray are among the combinations in these shop goods.

Spanish and primrose are the most popular tints in pale yellow, and four dyes so brilliant, and rival each other as colors for entire gowns and bonnets, or as accessories—these Vermeers, Sultans, Magi dye and English cherry.

New passementerie wrought in russet-brown silks, with velvet and dots of gold, are extremely effective and tasteful. There are also novel applique bands, which are a compromise between embroidery and passementerie. A still greater novelty is a gauntlet made of fine cord, and into various delicate devices and artistically colored.

Jewelled or plain silver and dull-gold buttons are used with the handsome dress materials, with which they correspond, and the new reds and browns have their counterparts of color in Lent XV. buttons made of copper-red gold and brown moss. The domed top buttons under the present style of draped and covered coverings are most, but when they are required in contrast therefore style, for decorative, they are of the richest and most artistic patterns, and special kinds are made for special effective purposes.

The short clouding Spanish jacket is more popular than ever. It is applied to every sort of fabric, in cord embroidery on cotton dresses, in rich passementerie, on woolen, and guipure lace, and rich Russian and Spanish appliqué, in silks and beading on velvet or silk. Velvet jackets, cloaks, and telescopes will be worn during the entire summer season, but preference is given to the lighter rather than the darker shades of the fabric.

The seats of the stylish Louis Quinzes vests worn with elegant gowns of Pompadour brocade and similar costly fabrics, have faldstaff lace or crepe-lace frills around them, with frills of the same down the front. A deep flaring cuff of the brocade with some lace inside deadens the edges of the sleeve. A Vermeer brown velvet coat, forming a princess dress, is made to open over a Louis Quinzes vest of sure satin, embroidered with gold and brown nasturtium blossoms. With this is a large Directoire cravat of gold lace.

There is an irruption of ostrich boleros and capes on coats and dresses among the newest and costliest imported for the summer's outing. Figured linen, percale, and cambric shirt waists are still ruffled with herring-bone stitching white or colors. An agreeable substitute for cotton waists on cool summer days is the linens of dress dimity in old rose, russet, brown and cream white, and also of taupe cloth in stripes, checks, and odd geometrical patterns.

A graceful breakfast dishcloth just finished for a Newport leader of fashion is made of pale peach-blow India cashmere, lined with softest rosy-violet silk. The dress falls straight from the shoulders, and has very long pilgrim sleeves, also violet lined, with full dainty inner ones of pink silk net. A silver girdle lightly holds the folds at the waist, which fall over an accordion-pleated petticoat of pink-and-violet-striped muslin. A second gown for the same fortunate wearer is of heroda cerah with a full front of cafe au lait armure. There are full sleeves of golden-brown velvet, with cape collar and revers of the same, with a fine copper cord as a finish.

The bordered dishtowel or shandry dresses are made up very much like the bordered cotton towels and English dimity dresses. The dimity are tucked, accordion-pleated, or shirred here and there, or they are hemmed—a full repeat skirt gathered in a flat made over a very deep hem. The front of the waist is also sometimes pulled with revers opening over a blouse vest or shirt front, with a pretty shirred frill of the dress material. The sleeves are full at the top, and wristband; a standing collar is carried to the blouse front, while the revers of the jacket are continued across the back in a turned-down collar. Sometimes on dimity waists there are merely square shirred Hungarian caps for sleeves about ten inches in length, and elastics in the shoulder on the outside of the arm. Beneath this is a full bishop sleeve of embroidered nainsook or India muslin. This style repeats one that is popular on very young ladies' frocks of China silk and net for evening wear.

IS NOT, WHY NOT?

In plays, as in every other article of merchandise, the people are largely on the lookout for artistic, and it is but human nature, for everybody wants to get those better and whatever is the best and most approved and beautiful. Hence, "Hoyt's Dog" will continue to be the best and most artistic production, and special kinds are made for special effective purposes.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

For the greater convenience of the trade I have leased room 24 Central Street and fitted it up solely for my wholesale business. Though I shall retain an office at the old stand for the benefit of my patrons, it will be more convenient for them to leave their orders at the new Wholesale Department, where we shall be less crowded than at the old store and have ample room for examination and selection of goods. The constant increase in my business and the desire to furnish every convenience possible to those who have so long honored me with their patronage has led me thus to separate entirely my wholesale from my retail trade.
